Pot Luck contains some of Pat's more outrageous and ingeniously wacky characters like the debut of the irascible 100-year-old Ed, the daft Mrs. Swisher, Rancid Crabtree, Retch Sweeney, the canoe Zelda and even the Lone Ranger and Tonto! It also features stories that don't quite want to fit into the "script" of a normal McManus show.

You'll get a chance to hear about ethics and what to do about them, listen to a ghost story gone damp, and experience Pat's abduction by space aliens. You'll also witness how Pat discovers that real ponies don't go oink, and why cows don't like deep sea divers.

The show culminates with one of Pat's most popular stories, "The Grasshopper Trap," adapted wildly and with no holds barred for the stage!

A vivid comedic romp through the McManus world of the bizarre.

Kudos

"I write on behalf of Tim Behrens, an actor whose work I have admired for a long time. Tim's work, especially in comedy, is absolutely outstanding. When needed, he can push the envelope, and he can also be extremely subtle, still making a major impact. I strongly urge you to book his shows. He is loaded with talent and is a definite crowd pleaser."

Most sincerely,

Jack Lemmon

the late Jack Lemmon, actor

"The shows are hilarious. They are laugh-packed and remind you of a cross between Mark Twain and Bill Cosby. Don't miss these shows!"

The Billings, MT, Gazette

"The Nampa Civic Center has presented the McManus Comedies more than any other arts program over the past 8 years. Each of the programs are packed with laughter featuring some of the most bizarre characters on earth, all portrayed by Tim. Even if you are not a fan of McManus' best-selling books, these shows are great entertainment, and they appeal to both traditional theater patrons and people who normally might never set foot inside a theater.

For many communities, including ours, these shows are a "Nutcracker" type selling show, often selling themselves! It is rare that you find an artist that has high artistic performance, sells like crazy and can encourage arts education. Here you have the opportunity to enjoy it all."

*Bill Stephan,
former Director, the Civic Center, Nampa, ID*

"Sometimes, the laughter is so loud it hurts my ears."

REVIEWS

“The play brought jolts of laughter to the Discovery Theatre’s sold-out performance as actor Tim Behrens worked nothing short of magic into the realm of these tales set amongst a sparse collection of junk, a rocking chair, and a porch railing. Behrens cooked up a perfect delivery. The man seated next to me had such hard time breathing from laughing so violently that it resulted in odd-sounding snorts and gasps that were so loud!”

The Anchorage Daily News

“The ensuing pandemonium is evoked with such vivid lushness that the audience, already moved to tears of laughter, were reduced to banging their heads on their knees in a rictus of paralyzed delight. Behrens is a wonder at bringing to life the inhabitants of McManus’ fictional childhood...the anecdotes are hilarious.” The Seattle Times

“Behrens did a masterful job. He promised you’ll laugh until it hurts and they [the audience] did.” The Detroit News, Detroit MI

“Behrens’ brand of humor keeps the show fast-paced, raucous and fun to watch.” The Salt Lake Tribune, Salt Lake City UT

“People were laughing so hard, and for so long, I was afraid paramedics would need to be called in! The audience was in stitches, and speaking of stitches, I was afraid some people might end up needing a few. For busted guts, and that sort of thing.”

Spokesman-Review, Spokane WA

“One does not need to have ever read a word of McManus’ to enjoy this production. The two-act play is a must-see for anyone.”

Moscow-Pullman Daily News, Moscow ID

“If you’ve ever been afraid of the dark, [this show] offers you an opportunity to send that specter fleeing, chased away by belly-rolling laughter.” White Bear Press, St. Paul MN

“One-man play’s author and actor guaranteed laughs, and they deliver.” Casper Star-Tribune, Casper WY

“Behrens’ portrayals of unique characters were warm, real and often funny to the point of tears.” The Flint Journal, Flint MI

"The evening's laugh quotient is almost off the chart as Behrens darts through the boys' search for meaningful advice on dating."

Deseret News, Salt Lake City UT

"In many ways, McManus in Love is reminiscent of the old Bill Cosby comedy routines which generations of kids memorized by listening to them on LP Albums." Red Wing Republican Eagle, MN

"Behrens was nothing short of amazing. Facial expressions, body language and tone of voice were the only tools he used to portray over a dozen unforgettable characters. His timing and delivery were excellent, and according to comments heard during intermission, he had more than one person "sobbing with laughter."

Comox Valley Record, British Columbia

"I laughed until my chest ached and my face hurt. Then I laughed harder." Billings Gazette, Billings MT

"This G-rated play had people laughing so hard, they cried!"
The Register Guard, Eugene, Oregon

"Nearly two weeks later, and every day since your sold out performance someone has told me how much they enjoyed your side-splitting performance. I've never heard such sustained laughter in the theater..."

*Lori Patrick,
Cultural Arts Manager,
City of Auburn, WA*

"A terrific show, wonderfully well delivered to our sold out audience: energetic, nuanced, smart."

*Development Director,

"McManus is a master of words...and Behrens is a master of expression."

Tim Behrens Biography

BIOGRAPHY

Tim Behrens comes from an acting family. His dad, Frank Behrens, was a well known radio and TV actor. Frank also wrote material for several comedians, including Tony Randall and Don Knotts, for many years.

Tim's mom was a working actress for 60 years! Her stage name was Amzie Strickland, and if you watched TV from 1955 to 2001, then you've seen Amzie. Originally from Oklahoma, Amzie began acting in radio in New York City, and became sought after for comic roles. As radio waned, she moved to Hollywood.

Amzie guest-starred on more than 600 TV shows, everything from I Love Lucy to the Andy Griffith Show (Miss Rosemary plus 3 other appearances) to ER. Indeed, her resume reads like a history of television. She also appeared in 15 feature films including Doc Hollywood, Krippendorf's Tribe and Pretty Woman. Plus, she had feature roles in more than 35 made-for-TV movies and pilots.

Growing up in a household of two actors, Tim avoided acting like the plague...until some moment of deranged alchemy got him on stage for the first time at age 32.

Tim was the managing/artistic director of Centre Theatre Group for 6 years, and the founder (along with his beautiful jazz songstress wife, Leslie Ann Grove) and artistic director of CenterStage and Ella's Supper Club, all in Spokane, WA. He was the Marketing Director and a featured performer at Rockin' B Ranch near Liberty Lake, WA, for three seasons.

All along, Tim has consistently toured and continues to tour the McManus Comedies.

Tim and Pat celebrated 20 years of McManus Comedies in October of 2012! Pat celebrated by phoning Tim from an easy chair, while Tim was stuck in Winnemucca trying to find the theatre in an early but devastating snow storm. Sometime during 2013, Tim will perform a McManus Comedy for the 1700th time....but who's counting?

When not touring, Tim and his wife are avid gardeners, having cultivated several new species of auids.

XXXXXXXX presents Pot Luck by Patrick F. McManus, starring Pat's indentured actor, Tim Behrens.

McManus, one of the most popular humor writers in the country, has penned 23 titles which have sold more than 6 million copies. Five of his short humor collections have made the top 10 of the NY Times Bestseller's list. His five one-man shows, all performed by Behrens, have played to more than 400,000 people in 21 states.

Pot Luck presents a wide array of weird McManus Stories. Witness Pat get abducted by space aliens. Find out why Mrs. Swisher thinks Martians have grown wheat for their young near her farm. Learn why Rancid Crabtree thinks grasshopper traps have jaws so small you can't really see 'em! Get a lecture on ethics and what not to do about them. Determine which pigs can be saddled and which not, and why real ponies don't go oink! Meet 100-year-old Ed and decide whether he can be trusted...not to die on a camping trip! These and more offbeat and colorful await you if you've got enough Pot Luck to come see them!

The McManus Comedies comprise five distinct one-man shows that are family friendly, hilarious stories about growing up in rural America when you're dirt poor (dirt being the only toy you can afford) and when the adults in your life get nervous every time they pass you on the street.

The Billings Gazette said: "Behrens doing McManus is like a cross between Mark Twain and Bill Cosby."

The late actor Jack Lemmon said: "Tim relishes in knocking the audiences out with laughter; see this show!"

And the Spokane, WA, Spokesman Review once worried that "paramedics would have to be called in people were laughing so hard."
